

We have a lot of students who are waiting to be matched with a mentor. Each school in the Chippewa Falls School District has students who would benefit from spending time with a mentor. Please find the corresponding school you are looking for below.

Students waiting for a Female Mentor:

@ Hillcrest

- 3rd grade girl who is bright, sweet, and funny! She loves to play with dolls, play school and pretend to be the teacher, do arts and crafts, or just talk and play a game. She would greatly benefit from an African American female mentor to be a supportive and encouraging role model in her life who can help her find her identity. (Hillcrest)

@ Halmstad

- 3rd grade Hmong American student who will benefit from a supportive mentor who has patience to get to know her. She will blossom as a relationship develops. She enjoys games and conversation. (Halmstad)
- A kind 1st grade girl who loves to please is the youngest in her family. School is very difficult for her but she never gives up. She'd love a mentor who will encourage her and enjoy spending time with her. (Halmstad)
- 2nd grade girl who has a dramatic flair! She loves being the center of attention and sometimes is hurt when peers don't want to follow her lead. She would really benefit from spending time with a positive female who can help her build her social skills and learn how to be a good friend. (Halmstad)
- 1st grade girl who loves being acknowledged. She is interested in learning new things when she feels safe, and she appreciates consistency and care. (Halmstad)

@ Stillson

- Kindergarten girl would love to spend time with a mentor. She enjoys playing with dolls, playing Polly Pockets, and drawing and coloring. This sweet girl will just love having your full attention! (Stillson)

@ Middle School

- A very sweet and quiet 8th grade girl who loves to play board games is looking for a positive adult to spend time with. She tends to be more talkative when she is one-on-one. She also enjoys doing arts and crafts. She would benefit from spending time with a positive female who can help build her social skills and self-confidence. (Middle School)
- A sweet 8th grade girl who loves art and music. She is very kind to others and tends to be quiet. She would love some one-on-one time with an adult. She is very creative, and loves drawing and craft projects. (Middle School)

Students waiting for a Male Mentor:

@ Jim Falls

- A 2nd grade boy who is struggling with the recent loss of his friend. He could sue someone to develop a special bond with. He loves sports, especially wrestling. He also loves to be outside playing anything. (Jim Falls)

@ Halmstad

- 4th grade boy who is new to Halmstad this year. He is energetic and active. He loves connecting with others and wants to please. He would love time to play a game. (Halmstad)
- A 2nd grade boy would love to have a mentor to play games with, to hang with, and just to help him know he's an amazing kid. He doesn't have a lot of adult time in his world, but makes the best of what he has. (Halmstad)
- 1st grade boy who is kind and respectful. He wants to do his best. He would love a mentor to talk to and be part of his life. (Halmstad)
- 4th grade boy hoping for a male mentor to meet with and follow him to the Middle School when the time comes. He is inquisitive, happy, and active. When asked about a mentor, he said he'd like someone to hang out with. He'd be happy to do what they want as well as go for a walk or play games. (Halmstad)

@ Hillcrest

- A 2nd grade boy would love to spend some extra time with someone playing games or just hanging out. This little guy has dealt with some significant challenges of moving to a new school and dealing with the recent death of his father. He could really use some extra support and encouragement, and some fun put into his school day. He is a sweet boy who has a great sense of humor! (Hillcrest)

@ Southview

- Kindergartener who is asking for a mentor because big brother and sister have one. He loves Legos, art, board games, cards, and Play-Doh. He is active and like to move around too! He has an outgoing and curious personality. (Southview)
- A silly 2nd grade boy is looking for a friend to have some fun with and tell all kinds of fun stories to. He enjoys video games, recess, and writing. There hasn't always been a consistent or positive male role model in his life and he's looking forward to the opportunity to have one! (Southview)

@ Parkview

- A 5th grade boy is looking for a “guy friend” to talk to and play games with. He is a special needs student with lots of energy. He is a pleasant boy who wants to please others. He could really use a strong male influence, because his dad is not involved in his life. (Parkview)
- A fun and silly kindergartener is looking for a mentor to help his transition into school. He loves recess, Legos, and playing in the sand! This friend is working on building his self-esteem and understanding; he could use a caring adult to help guide him on his way. (Parkview)

@ Middle School

- A silly, active, and adventurous 7th grade boy could use a positive adult buddy to hang out and share his interests with. He enjoys reading about snowboarding and basketball; he would actually love to learn some snowboarding tricks. He enjoys hands-on classes like Metals and Woodworking. (Middle School) Keaghan Boos

@ Chi-High

- A friendly and quiet 10th grade boy would greatly benefit from having a positive male friend to hang out with. He enjoys playing in the gyms and playing board games. He has a very contagious laugh! (High School School)
- 11th grade boy is personally asking for a mentor and would benefit from having another adult to talk to. He really enjoys video games and computers. He has a significant visual impairment and autism, but a very intelligent young man. He likes to read as well. He tends to struggle with social skills and voicing his frustrations. He is a very nice kid who just needs another person to talk to! (High School)
